Employee and Spouse or Domestic Partner

[Webpage: http://benefits.nmsu.edu/other/employee-tuition/]

With appropriate approvals, eligible employees are entitled to take up to 6 credit hours per semester and 8 total credit hours during the summer sessions without in-state tuition charge. Only tuition and required fees included in the tuition rate will be covered by this benefit. Courses are available to spouse/domestic partner if the employee does not use all the credit hours. Spouse/Domestic Partner benefits are considered taxable by the Internal Revenue Service. Other situations may be considered taxable as well. Tuition waiver is available for undergraduate and graduate courses. Students holding a Graduate Assistantship or NM Legislative Lottery Scholarship are excluded from eligibility.

Child(ren)

[Webpage: http://benefits.nmsu.edu/other/child-tuition/]

Qualified children of benefit eligible employees may receive a special tuition rate, which is 50% of the normal tuition rates (see link) for in-state tuition for part time and full time enrollment. Children must be under the age of 25 and unmarried to participate in this benefit. Waiver amounts may be considered taxable. Tuition waiver is available for undergraduate and graduate courses. Students holding a Graduate Assistantship are excluded from eligibility.

Retirement

New Mexico Educational Retirement Board

[Webpage: http://benefits.nmsu.edu/retire/nmerb/]

All employees (excluding graduate assistants and student employees) working 11 hours per week (.26 FTE) or more automatically become a member of the Educational Retirement Board plan when they begin employment with NMSU. Membership in the ERB is a condition of employment and the following forms are required:

- Beneficiary Designation form
- NMERB Employee Data form

Contributions toward retirement are deducted on a pre-tax basis from the employee's earnings each pay period, based on gross annual salary (see link). Employee and employer contributions to the retirement plan are designated through state statute and can change every legislative session. A list of current contribution levels can be found on the NMSU benefits website.

The ERB is a defined benefit plan. Benefits are calculated based on the following formula:
Final Average Salary x Service Credit x .0235 = Gross Annual Benefit
(see http://www.nmerb.org/calculating_retirement.html)

See Tiered Multipliers for employees hired on or after July 1, 2019.

The final average salary is the higher of:
1. Average annual earnings for the last 20 calendar quarters (60 mos.) prior to retirement, or
2. Highest average annual earnings for any 20 consecutive calendar quarters.

If an employee terminates employment prior to retirement eligibility, the following options are available:
- Do nothing. Contributions will remain with the NMERB.
  - Additional service credit will be added if the employee resumes eligible employment with an ERB employer.
  - Retire from the ERB when the employee meets retirement eligibility requirements. (Minimum 5 years of service required)
- Refund/rollover the employee contributions. Employer contributions are not part of the member’s account and are not refundable to a member.
  - Once employee contributions are refunded, employee service credit is zeroed out.
  - If the employee is re-hired with an NMERB employer, service credit begins at zero and membership is established under the rules at the time of re-employment.

Eligibility for retirement is based on established rules and can be found on the NMSU website at http://benefits.nmsu.edu/retire/nmerb/ or on the NMERB website at http://www.nmerb.org/whentoretire_hand.html.

New Mexico Alternative Retirement Plan
Webpage: http://benefits.nmsu.edu/retire/alternative/
Faculty and certain non-faculty employees who have never contributed to the New Mexico Educational Retirement Plan previously may participate in the Alternative Retirement Plan (ARP). Based on specific criteria, Benefit Services identifies ARP eligible employees upon hire. Once eligibility is confirmed with the NMERB, eligible employees are sent information regarding this program via the official NMSU email account. Eligible employees must elect the ARP option within the first 90 days of employment or remain on the ERB plan for the length of employment with any ERB employer.

ARP participants contribute the same amount as participants in the NMERB defined benefit plan, on a pre-tax basis. The university contributes 3% less than the amount for the defined benefit plan, per state statute. The ARP is a defined contribution plan, which allows employees to direct contributions into investment funds through either the TIAA-CREF or Fidelity investment companies. Employees have more control (and risk) over the investment of their retirement contributions.

Upon termination, employees may:
- Retire: take a distribution based on IRS rules and regulations for the 401a plan. Contact the carrier for information regarding available options.
- Refund/Rollover the employee contributions plus NMSU’s contributions. Contact the carrier for information regarding rollover and distribution requirements.

Voluntary Retirement Plans
Webpage: http://benefits.nmsu.edu/retire/voluntary/
403(b) (see http://www.irs.gov/publications/p571/ch01.html) and 457(b) (see https://www.irs.gov.Retirement-Plans/IRC-457b-Deferred-Compensation-Plans) plans are available to all employees. These plans allow employees to contribute additional funds for retirement savings on a pre-tax basis. There is an option for a ROTH 457(b) (after tax contributions) through TIAA CREF only. Contributions are made by the employee; no contributions are made by the university to these plans. The minimum contribution is $7.50 per paycheck. The maximum contribution is set by the Internal Revenue Service (https://www.irs.gov/Retirement-Plans/Retirement-Plans-FAQs-regarding-403b-Tax-Sheltered-Annuity-Plans).

Participants must set up an account with an authorized vendor and submit a Salary Reduction form to HR Services to initiate contributions.

Payroll
Webpage: https://payroll.nmsu.edu/
Exempt employees are paid on a current pay cycle and submit a monthly leave report to indicate leave used. Non-exempt employees are paid on a one pay cycle lag and submit a time sheet every pay cycle indicating both worked time and leave time. Paychecks are issued twice a month on the 15th and last day of each month. If the payday falls on the weekend, the paycheck will be issued the Friday before.

This is a summary of information. This document does not set a contractual commitment.
Employees are encouraged to participate in direct deposit for payroll checks. Subscribers are sent a payroll advice each pay period, through the official NMSU e-mail account, with the details pertaining to their paycheck. Access to the payroll advice requires a password. If the employee auto forwards their NMSU e-mail to another e-mail account, the employee will not be able to access the payroll advice. The payroll advice is auto generated and cannot be reproduced. Payroll information is also available to employees through their MyNMSU account under the Employee tab.

To safeguard direct deposit information NMSU masks account information once it is entered into MyNMSU. An employee must be able to input the last 4 digits of at least one account number listed in the direct deposit fields to be able modify account information.

Faculty – 9-month faculty have the option of receiving salary on a deferred schedule. This provides 24 payments over a 12-month period in lieu of the normal 18 payments over a 9-month period. Deferred pay must be requested at the time of hire and can be changed annually in July, with the appropriate form.
